THIS WEEK AT THE MOSES MASON HOUSE

Once again this year the Bethel Historical Society was pleased to make the facilities of the Moses Mason House available to the Living Nativity.

The Endowment Campaign for 1983 has now passed the $6,100 mark with a contribution from Mrs. Lucretia Evans, Bronx, N. Y., this week's donor. To date over 260 persons have contributed during 1983.

New members this week are James Anderson, Newry and Leslie Smith of Bethel.

Student visitors this week were students from Mr. Morton's American history class at Telstar Regional High School. Society Director Stanley Howe gave them a brief talk on the museum and they had an opportunity to experience what life in the 19th century might be like by touring the Moses Mason Museum.

The program committee of the Society met this week and planned the 1984 programs for monthly meetings.

At the membership committee meeting also held this week it was learned that the Society has gained 91 members since last year.

Sales of the 1984 calendars continue to be at a brisk pace. They may be purchased at the Moses Mason House and at several Bethel Stores including Brown's Variety Store.

CHRISTMAS EVE WORSHIP AT WEST PARISH CHURCH
A service of readings and carols will be held at 7 p. m. Christmas Eve at the West Parish Congregational Church in Bethel. Families are invited to come with children.

At 11 p. m. Christmas Eve, the Bethel Area Clergy Association will sponsor a Candlelight Service of Communion. Laypersons and members of the Association will lead the worship.

TO BE CLOSED DEC. 26
Included among establishments to be closed Monday, Dec. 26, a legal holiday due to Christmas occurring Sunday, are the following: Bethel Post Office, Bethel Savings Bank, Casco Northern Bank, N. A., Bethel Area Health Center and Bethel Town Office.

Federal Government and the nuclear industry there is no really safe way to dispose of nuclear waste. We are told, however, that the waste is there and something must be done with it. The Sunday River Valley has been proposed as a burial dump site. We are severely opposed to this proposal but not only for the selfish reason that it is proposed in our "backyard". Underground burial is the least safe method of disposal now under consideration, particularly in a high-rainfall area such as the Sunday River Valley.

Selectmen's Meeting
Meeting in regular session Monday evening, Dec. 19, in the Town Office, the Board of Selectmen discussed a variety of topics.

The Board reaffirmed its earlier vote of June 30, 1983, to renew a liquor license (partial year) for Claus and Jald Wise d/b/a the Norseman Inn, in order to open over the holiday period. The Manager's planned appointment of Debra Wheeler as Animal Control Officer between Jan. 1 and March 31, 1984, was confirmed. Ms. Wheeler will replace Diane Hunt who resigned effective Dec. 31. In a unanimous vote, the Selectmen reappointed John Head to a second three year term as Trustee of the Bethel Water District.

The Board discussed with Newry Selectman Steve Wight, Hanover Selectmen Raymond Chase and Norman Ferguson, and Bethel Wastewater Treatment Plant Operator David Bartlett a proposed septic waste disposal site on the land of Franklin Harrington of Bethel. Following a half hour discussion on controls, dumping and testing schedules, the Selectmen unanimously voted to have Mr. Harrington, the Towns of Newry and Hanover and Bethel's Town Manager work up the application to D.E.P. for the site for the Selectmen's approval prior to scheduling a public hearing.

E.B.S. & C.P.S. HOLD WINTER CONCERT

Parents and friends of nearly 300 elementary students of Ethel Bisset and Crescent Park Schools in Bethel, filled Telstar Auditorium on Wednesday evening, Dec. 14, to be entertained by an hour of singing. The winter concert program got underway at 7 p. m. with Principal Nancy Davis welcoming everyone and introducing district elementary music specialist, Elizabeth Mikenas, who conducted the program.

The students, grades K-5, sang their hearts out in three different choruses with traditional American folk songs, rounds and songs with the holiday spirit.

The evening was peaked with an early visit by Santa Claus who presented Ms. Mikenas with a thank you gift from the schools. 'Twas a night of beautiful music supported by a large and complimentary audience.

NOTES FROM Evans Notch
White Mountain National Forest
The second ice storm within the last two months hit the Evans Notch Ranger District of the White Mountain National Forest on Dec. 13. The freezing rain coated limbs and branches, thus adding to the breakage of limbs and trees caused by an earlier ice storm on Nov. 5 and a windstorm on Nov. 25. Winter hikers are urged to plan their trips accordingly, anticipate blocked trails at higher elevations, and report trail conditions to the District Ranger.

In spite of the inclement weather and adverse results, ski touring and snowmobile enthusiasts will be on the District during the Christmas vacation. Trail information and copies of a winter recreation map are available at the District office. While the entire District is open for ski-touring, select portions are off-limits to snowmobiles. Skiers are alerted that none of the District hiking trails have yet been reconstructed for ski-touring. Some trails have steep pitches with no outruns, and others have stream crossings with no bridges.

Approximately 100 Christmas trees were issued this year. The program which allows cutting a tree from National Forest lands for personal use has become a source of concern. On the Evans Notch District, some trees were felled in complete disregard of the terms of the permit. Specific problems include the taking of trees from private land adjacent to National Forest, felling trees larger than eight inches in diameter, and taking trees within 100 feet of a road or trail. The program has been reviewed and will be modified next year by specifying designated areas for Christmas tree gathering.

Kelly McAlister, clerk-typist, has accepted a promotion with the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Farmers Home Administration in South Paris. She is a fine receptionist who will be missed by her Forest Service friends and the public she so capably served.

WOODSTOCK HISTORICAL SOC. HOLDS CHRISTMAS PROGRAM
The Woodstock Historical Society held its annual Christmas Program last Saturday. President Annie Crockett presided. Curator Larry Billings read some Christmas poems. The whole group sang carols. Items from past Christmas celebrations were displayed ranging from an olive wood nativity scene from the Holy Land to a piece of jewelry. The exchange of gifts brought much delight—such items as a picture of Bryant Pond, baskets, and even some dry gas. A pair of Raggedy Ann and Andy dolls, an afghan, and pillows were awarded during the course of the evening.

All in all, it was an activity-filled evening and the large turnout testified to the fact that the Woodstock Historical Society has much to celebrate this year, including the acquisition of a new building. Accordingly, it would like to wish a Merry Christmas and Happy New Year to all, and thank everyone who has given support.

Sent in by Viva Whitman:

Didn't start the week out very good weatherwise, but did get the skirting onto the mobile home before the rain came down so hard.

Russell went to Norway to have his check-up with his doctor and the doctor told him he was doing fine. That was real good to hear. I stayed home and did a little sewing and cooking, the usual things that need doing every day.

Rain, rain and more rain greeted us on Tuesday, so we stayed inside and let it fall on the ground. Don't know how the heavens can hold so much water. It wasn't fit weather for anyone to be out in, but in the afternoon it let up a little and Russell went out to do a job under the trailer. I was glad the skirting was on so the wind wouldn't blow the rain in to get him wet. He got wet enough as it was.

Wednesday was the day for me to go to Fryeburg to the doctor's and as I hadn't done the wash, we took it along to do on the way home. What sights we saw that day. Water everywhere you looked. I told Russell it was more like the Spring floods you see than looking like winter. Farm ponds where there wasn't supposed to be any, brooks flooded over the banks and covering fields and Old Crooked River in Waterford was sounding really angry and looked it too as it plunged over rocks in a hurry to go wherever it was going. We stopped at the picnic area at Waterford to watch it a few minutes and it wasn't a pretty sight to see with the river so full and rushing at such a speed. I had much rather see it when it is a little calmer.

Got back to Norway and had lunch, then while I did the wash, Russell drove all over town doing errands. Got home to find we hadn't taken all the wash with us as we had thought, so made another trip on Thursday to finish the job. Guess we must be getting old and forgetful. Saw several people at the laundromat that we knew.

Didn't do enough on Friday to even mention. Russell worked outside making and hanging doors on a couple of buildings.

My foster daughter, Helen Strout of Oxford came to call on us late Saturday forenoon and stayed for lunch. We had to get ready to go to Grange Saturday night at Bear River Grange, Newry Corner. Russell stirred up some Rice Krispy bars and I had made fudge, also had stuff ready for sandwiches as we were having our Christmas party. Sister Laura

WEST BETHEL Children's Center

The activities at the Center this week have focused around the Christmas holiday season. Children have been involved in making ornaments for the tree, fashioning Christmas cards for the patients at the Ledgeview Nursing Home, listening to favorite Christmas stories (after a trip to the Bethel Library), and singing songs of this festive holiday season. Wednesday was spent attending a party at Ledgeview in West Paris, sharing gifts of cookies made by the chil-

Hutchins had called that morning that she wouldn't be there as she had come on with a worse cold and was sick. Didn't think mine would get any worse so got ready and went. We had a meeting and then had the program afterward. Thanks to some dear friends, we had a good program. Dot Canwell came to play piano and whistle, which she does so beautifully; Richard Felt came with his harmonica and played with Dot. They always play some snappy music that you can't help but enjoy it and tap your feet to keep time. Also, Harry Boyer and Loretta Hall came to help me out as well as other visiting members being willing to take part. I appreciate it more than they know. I think everyone had a good time and plenty to eat for refreshments. Thanks everyone.

Didn't feel so good when I got up Sunday morning, and I didn't do any more than I absolutely had to. It felt as though I had a lead brick or cement block on my chest. However, I got a phone call that brightened up the day for me. I had written a week ago about Myrtle Clifford calling that they had found a little rocking chair and would like to find the owner of it. She called and the owner had called to identify the chair and was coming to get it. Their little girl had been crying because she didn't have the chair. I may have this wrong, but I think the grandmother read my piece and called the little girl's mother about it. Anyway, I'm glad to know that she can have her rocking chair back because of my writing about it. It was a good Christmas present as Myrtle said. I don't know all the folks that read what I write, but this was one time when it really did some good and I'm very thankful for it.

I'd like to wish all my readers a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. It has been wonderful to hear from so many saying they read my writing. I am sure it would make Mother very happy to know that I am writing and that there are folks that like to read it. So, in her memory and for myself, God bless you all.

dren with the people there. Songs and games were enjoyed by all. Thursday Santa Claus and Mrs. Claus made an appearance at the children's Christmas party held at the Center. They, and several parents, stayed to partake of a buffet luncheon.

The Parent Group is being congratulated on meeting their $500 goal to help with the utilities. The latest fund-raiser was a huge success and thank you are in order for the following: Linda Smith for making donations of an afghan; Yvonne Sessions for Raggedy Ann and Andy Dolls; Scott and Wendy Annis for contributing a turkey; all the parents and Opal Tyler for donations of food, crafts, and sale of tickets; Al Beckwith for contributing Christmas wreaths; Bethel Savings Bank for donating space to hold the sale.

For making the children's Christmas party such a merry one, thanks go to: Bethel Rotary for the donation of $50 towards the purchase of books for each child (Parents Group for making up the difference); Prim's for wrapping paper and bags; Brown's for wrapping paper and candy; Bob's Corner Store for candy canes; Bethel Senior Citizens for mittens; Mina Wheeler for mittens; Margaret Anderson of California for knitted slippers; Deborah Adams for hats and mittens; Quentin Tyler for a beautiful Christmas tree.

The winners in the recent fund-drive draw were Bruce and Esther (Farrar of Bryant Pond (the food basket); Geraldine Hart, Bryant Pond (the afghan), and Dawn Gross, Bethel (the Raggedy Ann and Andy dolls).

NOTICE: There will be no Head Start on Friday, Dec. 23. There will be Day Care services only. The Center will be CLOSED throughout the S.A.D. 44 Christmas break AND ALSO on Monday, Jan. 2, 1984, which is a legal holiday.

— Mrs. Collista Morgan, Corres. —

My mind this morning is teeming with memories of the woods. So occasionally I lift a pillow which I have to my nose for it is spicy with redolence of balsam boughs tucked away inside. It is like the breath of the endless forest. Its scent awakens memories of my hikes to the hills. A deeply inhaled breath triggers a new thought, a new memory. The same thing happens, as I pass my evergreen wreath going to and from the porch for I catch the rich fragrance of the balsam fir, again.

Not back to the mountains yet, but I did go all around my driveway, which is one eighth of a mile. Another time I tried the Bulldozer Road very briefly. Neither was easy for I find it is still uncomfortable to walk.

I was out long enough to hear the December sounds. For the most part they were in keeping with the coming of winter. From the oaks came a rustle, as the wind passed by. The faded-gold thin leaves, of the beeches there came the sound of steady pattering of rain in the distant forest. Near the driveway the ice looked brook sang a muted song, as its slow waters worked toward the pond. From the pond I heard thin noises, as ice shifted around the muskrat houses or along the shores.

Winter now starts to give the last turn to the key that locks the land into another spring.

Chickadees tumbled over tree trunks and repeated their names in a monotone way.

I thought especially of the first and the times I went to get the Christmas tree. I climbed through the pasture, through a sap orchard, to an evergreen stretch above the hardwoods. Here, all was peaceful and quiet. It was as if I had entered a world where strife and man-made problems were unknown. And, oh, the fragrance! After making a choice I'd turn back, and later look at what I had chosen.

This year it wasn't my journey or my choice but a pretty little tree stands here. A star at the top is a symbol that our hearts dream of a time when wars shall be gone forever. Peace on earth, good will to men is the Gail which we seek.

It was good to stand and listen to the hushed murmuring of the evergreens. A conversation among the hemlocks, pines, spruces, and firs, was keyed to the time of Year.

Once again we take courage and let our heart have its way. Life laughs, and it's glad. It is Christmas time! Perhaps if we tried, who knows, we might carry with us all through another year the joy of Christmas.

LOCAL SKIERS WILL ATTEND OLYMPIC TRIALS

Roger Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Smith of East Bethel, and Eric Hastings, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Hastings of East Bethel have both received official invitations to compete in the Olympic trials for the 1984 U.S. Olympic Ski Team. The top 50 Cross-Country skiers in the country were sent invitations to attend this year's trials to be held in Lake Placid, N.Y., Dec. 30-Jan. 5. From these races only the top few will be chosen to represent the U.S. at Sarajevo, Yugoslavia in February.

Roger is a 1980 graduate of Telstar Regional High School, where he was captain of the cross-country ski team and the team's outstanding cross-country skier for three consecutive years. Roger attended Stratton Mt. School in Vermont after graduation and has been racing throughout the East and the country during the past three years. In 1982 Roger was consistently one of the top two finishers in the nation-wide Dannon Series. Roger has always been a hard worker and is a fine example that hard work and determination will take someone a long way.

Eric is a 1981 graduate of Telstar where he was captain of the cross-country ski team and the team's outstanding cross-country skier during his senior year. He was State Cross-Country champion, an outstanding member of the soccer and track teams, and winner of the Michael S. Brooks Award in his senior year. Since graduation, Eric has been attending the University of New Hampshire and has been a member of their varsity ski team all three years. During that time he has qualified twice to compete at the NCAA Championships and has finished near the top both years. Eric's attitude toward what he does and his great skiing style will continue to head him toward success.

All of Roger's and Eric's former teammates and coaches are very proud of these two and would like to wish them both the best of luck.

Rotary Club News

The Bethel Rotary Club held its luncheon meeting at the Sudbury Inn at 12 noon on Dec. 20. Several items of Club business were discussed involving programs and activities pending and at hand. The Christmas baskets committee were to assemble at the bus garage on Thursday morning, Dec. 22 to make up the baskets for subsequent delivery to selected families to help make their Christmas a little merrier.

The program chairman for entertainment on Tuesday was Jim Delamater. His guest speaker, Ed Whittier, Ed is a C.P.A. and owner of Useful Information Systems, South Paris. He talked on how to decide on what the individual needs are when buying a computer. The scope of computer application is unending. Advice on procurement of software, types, etc., and the needed hardware, was discussed. The presentation was skilful and well received.

Program activities for Dec. 27 will be confined for the most part to the election and final acceptance of club officers for the 1984-85 term of office.

Guests joining with the Club on Tuesday were Bud Paine, guest of Roger Conant; Steve Wright, guest of Bryce Yates, and Rick Whitney, guest of Dave Preble.

TELSTAR GUIDANCE NEWS

Numerous activities and events have taken place during the month of December in the Guidance Office.

Guidance has worked the past month with a committee of eight faculty members in establishing a Freshman Attitude Committee. Upcoming details will be presented in January issues of this paper.

During the week of Dec. 19, Academic Juniors were given an interpretation of their PSAT scores. Seniors who took the College Board's S.A.T. in November were given an explanation of their results as well. In addition to these interpretation meetings, 33 seniors received the results of their Armed Services Vocational Aptitude Battery. Mr. Hart and local Army recruiters were available to explain results to seniors and answer their questions.

Mr. Hart has made numerous visits to English classes since Thanksgiving.

High school faculty members at Telstar were honored Wednesday, Dec. 21, with a Faculty Appreciation Day. The Guidance Office and Administration felt the staff should be recognized and commended for their hard work and dedication during this first semester. All were treated to donuts and cider.

Several more seniors will do job shadowing programs in waste water treatment, law enforcement, designing and medical assisting over Christmas vacation.

Important dates to mark on the calendar for January include: Jan. 3 (11 a.m.) 1983 grads will return to Telstar to share their college experiences and insights with seniors. The public is invited to attend: Jan. 5 (7 p.m.) the Guidance Office will hold a Financial Aid Night for parents and senior students. Ron Milliken from the University of Maine at Farmington will be co-presenter with Mr. Hart. This Financial Aid orientation will consist of presenting information on all types of financial assistance. Parents of Seniors are reminded to bring their own financial aid application forms to this workshop. Additional copies can be obtained in the Guidance Office.

Best wishes to everyone for a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:
Box 95
W. Bethel, Me. 04286
Dec. 19, 1983

I attended the last TAP meeting for Ethel Bisbee - Crescent Park schools. It was a very informative meeting about a reading convention and about the school computers.

But the thing which impressed me most was the genuine concern the teachers have for their students. Several teachers live long distances from school and travel many miles each day. They put in extra hours outside of school, planning and creating new ways to help both the reluctant and the eager learners. It was plain to see that the teachers love their students and that they want them to grow and develop into responsible citizens.

One third grade teacher told us of the large classes in that grade because of too few teachers. Another third grade teacher is needed before next year if the quality education our students are getting is to continue. The teacher who spoke up was more concerned over her students getting less attention than they needed, than she was over her own over-worked—but underpaid dilemma.

If a child hasn't learned to read by the end of the 3rd grade, he/she will probably never be too proficient at this most important skill. Many dollars are used in the upper grades trying to teach a skill which should have been learned in the primary grades. Let's give our hard-working teachers a hand for the great job they are doing, and let's hire a third third grade teacher to help lighten the load.

Have you ever taught a child how to read.

Sincerely,
Barb Lewis

The family of
CLIFTON E. BEAN
Wish to express our heartfelt thanks and gratitude to all who comforted and helped us during our recent bereavement, also for the many kind expressions of sympathy. Special thanks to the Meader & Son Funeral Home, Rev. Ronald Ashworth, and the pall bearers.

Newry

— Miss Amy Hanscom, Corres. —

Donald Hayner and daughter, Carol Riddon, granddaughter Bethany, have moved to a place near the Irish Neighborhood section of Greenwood, which he recently purchased.

Mr. and Mrs. David Fernald and Shane, Boothbay, were week end guests of Mary Tripp, Gaye and Shane will remain for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward McDonald of Topsham called on Mary Tripp Saturday evening.

Karen Hodson, Frye, visited Louise Learned Saturday evening.

Mrs. Larry Cummings, Madison, was a week end guest of her mother, Mrs. Louise Learned.

Betsy Clark and Gilberte Seely were in Bethel shopping one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. William Brooke and Samantha, and Phyllis Dickey, Augusta, Mr. and Mrs. Randy Brooke, Seneca, and Amber Mrs. Susan Bowie, Jennifer and Christopher Newry, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Wright, Sunday, and exchanged Christmas gifts.

The annual Christmas Program was held at the Newry Community Church Saturday evening, Dec. 17. Marcia Moxcey gave a reading by Gilberte Seely. Recitations by Seneca and Amber Brooke, Jennifer and Christopher Bowie, spoken at intervals, while Audrey Brooke read the Christmas Story, Jennifer Bowie and Marie Lowell sang "Here Comes Santa Claus" as Santa entered, Pastor Hanscom gave a brief message and the congregation sang Christmas hymns. The program was followed by a tree with gifts for the children. The subject of Sunday's message was Holy Night, with scripture from Isaiah 9: 2 through 7.

Nancy Wright, Karlene Bachelder, Olive Anderson, June Swan, Betsy Clark, and Gilberte Seely were in Rumford bowling Wednesday.

The Mothers' Club met at Sunday River Inn Monday for their annual Christmas Party and exchange of gifts. There was a good attendance and a good time was reported.

The Selectmen met Tuesday morning, Dec. 13. The problem of winter road maintenance was discussed. Since the Town is spread out over a large area and the Town has only one truck for sanding and plowing, it is difficult to get all roads plowed and sanded as soon as they should be. The possibility of contracting the roads on Bear River for winter maintenance was discussed but no decision was reached. The septage dumping site application was discussed. Since the proposed site is in the Town of Bethel, the Selectmen were to meet with Bethel officials Dec. 19 to discuss this with them. It was suggested that if the site was approved Newry would allow Bethel to use it on an emergency basis, if Bethel's plant is over capacity. An emergency plan for winter dumping must be part of the application to the D.E.P. Newry is asking the Rumford-Mexico Sewerage District for permission to use their plant on an emergency basis during the winter months. If approved, the site would be operated by the landowners for an annual fee from the Town, plus a dumping charge per load, to be paid by the persons having their tanks pumped. Each pump would be required to stop at the office and report the number of gallons pumped, and the name of the person, or persons, having their tanks pumped. The possibility of licensing pumps was discussed, to give the Town control over them.

Dick Fernald of the Oxford County Soil Conservation, U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, and the Selectmen met with Edward Daye at Sunday River Inn Friday morning to discuss Daye's losing trees in his Pine Plantation. After discussing the problem, an on the site inspection was made. An S turn in the river and two sand bars are diverting the river against the bank and undermining Daye's pine trees. Fernald explained that up to 40% of the trees could be removed over a five year period. To harvest the rest would come under the Local Shoreline Zoning Ordinance of the Town, and they could be cut only with a permit from the Local Planning Board. Anything that would change the river, such as removing the sand bars, rip-rapping the bank, etc., would require a permit from the State Dept. of Fish and Wildlife. Fernald pointed out that he had no authority on such matters, but it was understood that Daye intended to file an application. Other sites viewed were near the Jack Dennis residence on Sunday River and Warren Powers' property on Bear River where sand bars are causing erosion problems to the property. Fernald had previously inspected a site on the John Parker property on Bear River.

June Enman Swan entertained descendants of the Robert Enman family at the Club House, Dec. 13. Attending were Elsie Davis, Virginia Keniston, Bethel; Margy and Todd Swan, Locke Mills; Avis Bearsoy, Farmington; Norma Collingwood, Upton; Arline Enman, Erlene Hodson, Carol Enman, Rumford, and the hostess, June Swan, Eva Perry and Edith Rowe, Bethel, phoned that they were unable to attend.

Mrs. Suzanne Hayner, Glastonbury, Conn., is spending this week and Christmas Holidays with her mother, Mary Tripp.

Stephen Wright, Chairman of the Selectmen and Code Enforcement Officer John Gauthier, attended a Conference on Land Use Control, sponsored by the Natural Resource Council of Maine at the Augusta Civic Center on Dec. 15.

Kenneth Davis celebrated his 22nd birthday on Dec. 8 and was given a party by his parents on Saturday, Dec. 10. Rae Bartholomew made a chocolate cake decorated with a picture of his 22nd on the top. Pizza was enjoyed by all during the evening.

Those attending besides the guest of honor were Jock and Peter Morton, Brian and Wendy Hanscom, Eleanor and Norman Davis, all of Newry; Chris Largeesse, Mike Largeesse and Penelia Davis, Upton; Danny Wells, Dorel Wells, Clay Fyrborg, Tom Gill, Chris Mackinnemy, Chuck Jeris, Stacy Gammon, Kevin Muzzero, all of Andover and Brenda Cote of Rumford.

Gilead

— Louise Loring, Corres. —

Suppose on Christmas morning when you arise, some stranger knocks at your door, with three beautifully wrapped packages wrapped Peace, Serenity and Love.

If these were tangle gifts I am sure that not one of you out there would hesitate to let the stranger in and unwrap them with great haste. All of us, through our entire lives, spend day after day, trying to attain these very gifts, and become embittered and hardened in the search. Yes, and mighty weary and disappointed repeatedly, in the quest.

The great news today is—someone is knocking at your door—and offering you these gifts and to most of us He is a stranger—but He is the one, whose birth we are commemorating, Sunday—

"She laid Him in a manger, because there was no room at the inn—"

Keep the inn doors open—accept the gifts He is so eagerly offering us.

And you will experience the greatest Christmas you have ever had.

Merry Christmas everyone. God Bless.

Christmas Thoughts
To All This Season

I am thinking of you today because it is Christmas, and I wish you happiness. And tomorrow because it will be the day after Christmas, I shall still wish you happiness. I may not be able to tell you about it every day, because I may be far away or we may be very busy. But that makes no difference—my thoughts and wishes will be with you just the same. Whatever joy or success comes to you will make me glad. Clear through the year I wish you the spirit of Christmas.—Van Dyke

North Paris

— Evaline B. Vatcher, Corres. —

Work has started on the Route 219 development. Two large skidders and several men worked the past week except for Tuesday and it rained very hard. Trees and brush have been cut so the electric and telephone poles can be set back about 12 feet. It looks strange but maybe it will look more strange before the road is finished. The skidders are parked near the Vatchers and so no one has carried them off. It has been interesting to watch them and I even watched them hide the gasoline that they had for the power saws.

Flaye Abbott has been home for several days due to lack of work. Mrs. Rhoda Vatcher carried her daughter, Mrs. Rhoda Labbe and her two sons to Portland Sunday to meet her husband B7 Mounted Police William Labbe, who came by plane from Germany for the holidays. Mrs. Labbe and sons will go to Germany after the New Year.

Mrs. Olive (Lapham) Seales who used to live at the Tuell Town four corners, left while trying to get into her wheel chair at Ledgeview Nursing Home. She was taken by ambulance to Norway Hospital and x-rays showed two or three cracked ribs and she has bronchitis, so the family members were called to the hospital. Olive has been at Ledgeview for many years.

Joe Vatcher took advantage of the rainy weather to redecorate his kitchen and lifted up the cabinets and sink 3 1/2 inches. Evaline tried to help by staying out of the way. On Saturday Joe took his nine year old nephew, Corrie, rabbit hunting. Joe got a rabbit and asked Corrie to put it in the bag. As he was doing this Joe said boot and Corrie dropped the rabbit, thinking it was alive.

BETHEL TOWN OFFICE

The Board continued discussions of ambulance service shortfalls with a delegation of B.E.A.R.S. representatives, Florence Merrill, Director (to be) Shirley Morse and First Assistant Will Crowell and Bethel Health Center representatives Shirley Powell and Jan Whitworth. The central problem is that resignations effective will reduce the number of qualified attendants to 11. This will mean that each attendant must "stand" more than 2.5 12 hour shifts per week in order to maintain 24 hour a day service. Attached to her resignation as a B.E.A.R.S. effective Dec. 31, Florence Merrill submitted a proposal suggesting the Town hire a part-time ambulance coordinator whose duties would include recruitment of volunteers, teaching and on-going training of ambulance personnel, maintenance of ambulance supplies and equipment, scheduling of ambulance personnel, billing and record-keeping and public relations. This proposal was contrasted with the alternative of disassociating the Town completely from ambulance administration, equipment and service delivery and contract with an ambulance service company.

as Sunday River. Leakage of poisonous waste is assured by the local ecology.

"In addition, this waste dump site would destroy a spectacular and unspoiled wild area, now a prime recreational and timber producing spot. The fragile economy of a wide open area of western Maine would suffer a severe blow due to the collapse of the recreational and tourist sectors. An entire heavily populated valley downstream would suffer the dangers of radiation in the watershed.

"We call on the Federal Government and the nuclear industry to redouble efforts to find a truly safe method of disposal. In the interim we suggest present wastes be stored in completely sealed, engineered above ground containment facilities where any leakage can be immediately controlled. As potential sites we suggest present

"We denounce the actions of the Federal government and the nuclear industry for attempting to wash their hands of responsibility in this matter, and we express our severe discontent with the State Planning Commission and other officials for not informing us about this grave matter. We are prepared to use all legal means available to us to oppose any disposal of nuclear wastes, particularly that proposed near our homes and among the mountains and streams which have nurtured us, both spiritually and physically, as long as we have lived here."

Committees are being formed to act on this issue. All who are interested in helping or can volunteer services please call 824-3246 or 824-2745. For information on low-level sites, contact Alan Philbrook at 582-1200. For State Government information contact Rep. Jeff Mills at 685-2333.

A meeting of the Low-Level Radioactive Waste Siting Commission in Augusta on Tuesday, Dec. 20, was attended by six representatives of the Headquarters Alliance of Sunday River Valley on behalf of those citizens who attended the meeting at Bear River Grange Hall on Dec. 18 regarding the low-level radioactive waste site proposed in Riley Township of Sunday River Valley. Representative Jeff Mills, Senator Irwin and Representative Irwin, and Alva Morrison were in attendance. Questions were presented to the Commissioners and the Statement which was adopted at Bear River Grange Hall was read by Alva Morrison. The concept of above-ground engineered waste storage at Wiscasset was promoted by those who testified, and the Commissioners have promised to investigate this option.

For more detailed information on State Government actions on this matter contact Rep. Jeff Mills at 685-2333.
